

2012 Red Lily Tempranillo

Tasting Notes

The 2012 Red Lily Tempranillo has a beautifully dense and complex black fruit character at its core, with ripeness yet freshness. There's a floral, mineral lift to the nose, as well as some oak spice, and the palate is dense and quite structured, with a chocolatey, spicy edge. The tannins lurking under the fruit suggest that this is a wine with a good deal of evolution ahead of it. There is a broad array of secondary flavors, such as smoky bacon, fig, leather and tobacco that gives this wine incredible complexity.

Facts and Figures

Varietal Composition:	100% Tempranillo, Clone 1 & Duero
Appellation:	Applegate Valley / Rogue Valley
Harvest:	October 2012
Brix:	25.4
pH:	3.67
Total Acidity:	5.9 g/L
Months in Oak:	22 months
Cooperage:	French Oak
Alcohol:	14.1%
Release:	December 2015
Production:	500 cases